RAYMOND JAMES BANK SPONSORS NATIONAL CRIME PREVENTION PROGRAM FOR SENIORS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. – Raymond James Bank recently announced sponsorship of the Senior Crimestoppers program at Magnolia Gardens Assisted Living in Pinellas Park, Fla. The funding provides residents of Magnolia Gardens with ongoing, free-of-charge crime prevention services, including personal lockboxes and access to a crime tips hotline.

“We look forward to partnering with Magnolia Gardens in this program to benefit our community,” said Nancy McCarthy, senior vice president/chief compliance officer for Raymond James Bank.

Both Raymond James Bank and Magnolia Gardens received a charter plaque commemorating the sponsorship.

Senior Crimestoppers is administered by the Senior Housing Crime Prevention Foundation, a nonprofit program that aims to reduce crime in nursing homes and senior-housing communities in 45 states. Other benefits of the program include cash rewards for anonymous information about crime incidents, clearly marked plaques and signs throughout the facilities to indicate that crime will not be tolerated and ongoing education reinforcing the zero tolerance crime policy.
